The staff of the South Dakota State Historical Society are available to present the following presentations and programs, pending program and individual workloads and scheduling considerations. If you are interested in having one of the presentations, please contact the presenter directly (regular mail, e-mail, or telephone). All e-mail addresses may be accessed through the SDSHS Website, <http://www.history.sd.gov> For programs marked with an asterisk (*) pertaining to archaeology, contact the Archaeological Research Center in Rapid City. For all other SDSHS programs, contact the Cultural Heritage Center in Pierre. The staff from the five programs of the State Historical Society -- archaeology, archives, historic preservation, museum, and research and publishing -- are interested in sharing their expertise and individual history topics with the people of South Dakota. This roster is subject to change without notice.
